Bali Marine en Safari Park

Het Bali Safari & Marine Park heeft een grote verzameling 400 dieren van 80 verschillende, wilde diersoorten, die allemaal vrij rond lopen alsof ze leven in hun afgeschermd, natuurlijke leefgebieden. Deze dieren komen uit drie regio's - Indonesië, India en Afrika. Hieronder zijn gevlekte herten, Himalaya beren, nijlgau (grote antilope), zwarte gazelles, Afrikaanse nijlpaarden, zebra's, kamelen, struisvogels, bavianen, blauwe gnoes, en leeuwen. Toeristen, die aan boord zijn gestapt van één van de safaribussen, kunnen deze dieren bewonderen in verschillende delen van het park. De dieren lopen hier vrij rond en komen soms vlak bij de bussen. Ranthambore is een replica van een oude Indiase fort uit Rajasthan, waar de majestueuze witte tijgers rondlopen. Kampung Gajah (Elephant Village), een leefgebied voor gepensioneerde werkende olifanten.

Er zijn ook een aantal zeldzame en bedreigde soorten zoals de Komodo varanen, de Orang Oetan's, de witte tijgers en de Bali Mynah. Verder kunt u in dit park heerlijk rondwandelen, op de foto met één van de vele dieren en genieten van de olifanten. U heeft de mogelijkheid om deze olifanten te voeren met wortels en bananen, superleuk voor de kinderen. De wortels en bananen kunt u terplekke kopen.

Verschillende Wildlife Conservation organisaties in Indonesië zijn actief betrokken bij de dieren in het Park. Dit doen ze om het voortbestaan en het welzijn van vele bedreigde Indonesische diersoorten te waarborgen door boeiend onderwijs aan de bezoekers en met beschermingsprogramma's. Deze bedreigde diersoorten zijn o.a. de Bali Mynah, Sumatraanse olifant, en de Sumatraanse tijger.
